NATIONAL RECORDING ARTIST STEPHANIE QUAYLE COMPETES IN BATTLE IN THE SADDLE

Quayle Rides In Team Penning Event To Raise Funds For The Benefit Of Kentucky Horse Park

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (October 14, 2015) –National recording artist and skilled equestrian Stephanie Quayle (Rebel Engine Entertainment) joined fellow competitors to participate in the Kentucky Horse Park Foundation's 2015 Battle in the Saddle charity fundraiser on Sunday, October 11, 2015 at Kentucky Horse Park's Covered Arena.

The Battle in the Saddle event paired two amateur riders with a celebrity guest rider in the Team Penning competition. Quayle, a modern day "Annie-Get-Your Gun" kind of gal from Bozeman, MT, is as comfortable atop a 15-hand steed, sporting a six-gun pistol holster as she is on stage performing in front of thousands. She joined multiple talents who lent their sporting spirit to the teams including: Jane K. Beshear (the First Lady of Kentucky), Otto Thorwarth, (Jockey and "Secretariat" Movie Actor), Marty Moore (former NFL and UK linebacker) and award-winning jockeys Patti Cooksey, Pat Day and Rosie Napravnik. Quayle represented two teams: the Park Equine Hospital (teaming with Ashley Johnson and Jennifer Schuckman) and the Animal Health International Team (riding alongside J.D. Hill and Jack Whitm). The Park Equine Hospital team placed fourth in the overall competition.

All proceeds raised from the outing will support the Kentucky Horse Park Foundation – a non-profit organization dedicated to enhancing, expanding and improving the Kentucky Horse Park.

Stephanie's participation in Battle in the Saddle follows the success of another recent charity endeavor – the 3rd Annual Stephanie Quayle Homecoming Event held in her hometown of Bozeman, Montana. The homecoming (held on Saturday, September 26, 2015) raised $10,000 and more than 10,000 lbs in canned goods for the local Gallatin Valley Food Bank.
